

Vineet Singal, Co-founder and Chief Executive Officer

Vineet co-founded CareMessage in 2012 after dealing with his own personal health issues and volunteering at safety-net clinics as a pre-med student. Prior to this, Vineet published peer-reviewed research in cancer biology and epidemiology at the Mt. Sinai School of Medicine, the National Institutes of Health (National Cancer Institute), and the Stanford School of Medicine. Vineet also led a nationwide initiative at the Stanford Graduate School of Business to register over 115,000 new bone marrow donors from underrepresented communities using social media.

Vineet graduated with University Distinction from Stanford, where he also served as a student representative on the Stanford Board of Trustees and received the President's Call to Service Award. Vineet is an Echoing Green Fellow, a Draper Richards Kaplan Foundation Fellow, and a Y Combinator alumnus. He's a winner of the Hitachi Foundation's Young Entrepreneurs Award and an inaugural winner of the Wharton School's Beacon Awards on Leadership.

Cecilia Corral, Co-founder and Chief Strategy Officer

As CareMessage's Chief Strategy Officer, Cecilia spearheads and owns the CareMessage strategy and vision, and ensuring its execution throughout the organization. As a subject matter expert on our product, industry, and customers, Cecilia identifies the pressing problems that we need to solve, works to transform them into core objectives, and aligns internal teams on their progress towards these objectives. This work is crucial in helping us achieve our mission and impact on health equity.

Driven by her experiences growing up in a low-income immigrant household, Cecilia brings an experience-led approach to the work of CareMessage. Outside of her work at CareMessage, she is an advocate for Diversity and Inclusion in the tech industry through collecting and publishing data on Latina Tech Founders. Cecilia was on the 2019 Forbes 30 under 30 list for Healthcare and was recognized as a Social Entrepreneur of the Year in 2025 by the Schwab Foundation for Social Entrepreneurship. She graduated with a B.S. in Product Design Engineering from Stanford University.
